Why Choose the AAC Team?

Experience

Incorporated in 1983, AAC delivers quality IT services and support to a wide range of federal defense and civilian agencies. Many of the customers we support faced similar challenges: How can they use IT as a mission enabler to deliver better services in a more effective and efficient manner? AAC is meeting the challenge, helping federal agencies consolidate and modernize their IT infrastructures and administrative support systems.

Commitment

The company's commitment to technological innovation, process improvement, sound management principles and quality service is clearly demonstrated by the fact that AAC holds both the ISO 9001:2008 (Quality Management System) and ISO/IEC 20000-1:2005 (IT Service Management) certifications. Further, AAC has successfully assisted current government customers with their IT Service Management implementations based on frameworks such as the Information Technology Infrastructure Library (ITIL).

Performance

Many of AAC's contracts are performance-based, with various service level agreements (SLAs) that define acceptable quality levels, performance metrics, and measurements. In each case the company has met or exceeded the performance criteria and has received award fees accordingly.

Reputation

AAC has an established reputation for well-executed, efficient and effective contract transitions.

AAC was awarded the first task order on GSA Alliant SB, reinforcing its 27-year track record of success.
